Major indices slowed down after news of a U.S. strike on Iran, which killed one of its military leaders. Tensions are growing, but there have not been any significant headlines since the strike. Stocks still managed to slightly recover after the news, but ended up closing Friday red.

Bowser stocks (up 2.2% for the week) had a huge week and significantly outperformed major indices. It was a memorable close to a big year for recommendations. Where Food Comes From (WFCF) and GSE Systems (GVP) were the top gainers and continued to bounce from their recent lows.

Company Headlines

- Monday: No significant news.
- Tuesday: National Holdings Corp. (NHLD) reported 4QFY19 financial results. Revenue increased 29% to $57.4 million from $44.5 million in the same period last year.
- Wednesday: No significant news.
- Thursday: No significant news.
- Friday: MamaMancini's (MMMB) announced that Dan Mancini, Co-Founder of MamaMancini's, appeared on QVC today on January 3, 2020 to introduce its plant-based products the company has created in partnership with Beyond Meat® – Beyond Beef Meatballs & Sauce.

Bowser Notes

National Holdings Corp. (NHLD) only gained 3% despite reporting strong quarterly financial results. Revenue increased $12.9 million, while net income jumped to $2.8 million. The lacking momentum from the stock seems to be attributed to full year results, which were just slightly better than FY18.

The U.S. strike on Iran spike volatility on Friday. The event is similar to that of the trade war, in the sense that it will now start a brand new cycle of non-event headlines. Remember to take news with a grain of salt and focus on the underlying companies that you're holding.
