Bowser Companies: 6.1%

Major indices showed mixed results this week on low relative volume. Historically, the holiday season consists of lower volume and minimal volatility. The real estate sector outperformed while the technology and healthcare sectors slowed down. There are multiple significant events coming next week, including the Federal Reserve meeting minutes and the December jobs data.

Bowser stocks (up 6.1% for the week) rallied largely due to strength from Insignia Systems (ISIG). Dividend stocks ARC Document Solutions (ARC) and MIND C.T.I. Ltd. (MNDO) also gained on slightly above-average volume. Additionally, TOMI Environmental Solutions (TOMZ) gave back some of its recent gains as COVID-19 sympathy movers pulled back as a whole.

Company Headlines

- Monday: No significant headlines.
- Tuesday: Better Online Solutions' (BOSC) Supply Chain Division received additional orders for electronic components from a United Arab Emirates customer.
- Wednesday: Retractable Technologies' (RVP) Board of Directors declared dividends to holders of its Series II Class B and Series III Class B Convertible Preferred Stock in the amounts of $39,050.00 and $39,495.10, respectively. WaveDancer (WAVD) published an Investor Information Memorandum to update the public on its major transformation.
- Thursday: No significant headlines.
- Friday: No significant headlines.

Bowser Notes

Insignia Systems (ISIG) had yet another huge week and recovered from its recent pullback. Its volatility is largely due to the low number of shares and high short interest, resulting in aggressive moves in both directions. There has not been any significant change in the company's underlying value to justify the increase in market value.

TOMI Environmental Solutions (TOMZ) wiped out its gains from the last three weeks as COVID-19 stocks pulled back as a whole. The stock has had trouble holding gains in the past and has cooled off since the analyst upgrade two weeks ago. In order to improve its lacking financial results, its Amazon sales need to gain traction and its large customers will need to continue reordering products.
