For the week ended February 4, 2022

NASDAQ ↑ 2.4%	RUS 2000 ↑ 1.7%	S&amp;P 500 ↑ 1.5%	DJIA ↑ 1.0%
-------------------------	---------------------------	------------------------------	-----------------------

Bowser Companies: 2.2%

Major indices recovered some of their recent losses despite pulling back Wednesday through Friday. Both the Russell 2000 Index and the Nasdaq were able to outperform following a rough start to 2022. The jobs data on Friday was much better than expected. Unfortunately, that also increases the probability of a rate hike in coming months.

Bowser stocks (up 2.2% for the week) rallied with small stocks as a whole. Shares of MariMed (MRMD), our most recent recommendation, bounced 21% on high relative volume. Energy stocks ENGlobal Corp. (ENG) and WidePoint Corp. (WYY) also rebounded due to strength from the energy sector and crude oil.

Bowser Notes

Charles & Colvard (CTHR) underperformed following its earnings announcement this week. The stock sold off after the report showed slowed growth in comparison to 2021's revenue surge. However, the company reported a 49% increase in website sales from the prior year period. Net income dropped to $1.2 million from $2.5 million in the prior year period, which was mainly attributed to increased marketing expenses ahead of the holiday season.

Contrary to the returns from major indices, this week was a roller coaster for investors! Earnings from big names such as Amazon (AMZN) and Alphabet (GOOGL) crushed expectations, while Meta Platforms (FB) recorded its biggest weekly drop of all-time. There are more mega cap stocks set to report next week as well as four Bowser stocks. Don't forget to check the upcoming dates section to see which companies will be reporting!
