DJIA
↑ 0.9%

RUS 2000
↓ 0.1%

S&P 500
↓ 0.2%

NASDAQ
↓ 1.9%

Bowser Companies: 2.3%

Major indices showed mixed results ahead of the holiday season. The Nasdaq continued to underperform, while the Dow Jones Industrial Average recovered some of its prior week's losses. Although inflation data was in-line, stocks reacted negatively and sold off on low relative volume.

Bowser stocks (down 2.3% for the week) lagged despite multiple positive press releases throughout the week. One Stop Systems (OSS) announced a five year contract extension with the U.S. Navy but the stock barely reacted to the news. WaveDancer (WAVD) also announced a new contract and shares recovered from the recent selloff.

Company Headlines

- Monday: Clean Energy Fuels (CLNE) opened another renewable natural gas fueling station that will provide an anticipated 1.4 million gallons of the clean fuel annually for Amazon and other truck fleet. GSE Solutions (GVP) announced that a major southern utility customer has chosen to implement new TSM Enterprise modules that support plant performance and operations optimization. MamaMancini's (MMMB) appointed human resources executive Meghan Henson to its Board of Directors.
- Tuesday: No significant headlines.
- Wednesday: One Stop Systems (OSS) received a sole source, five-year contract extension to continue providing ruggedized transportable flash storage arrays and related supplies to a prime contractor for the U.S. Navy.
- Thursday: WaveDancer (WAVD) signed another customer for their Maverix Blockchain platform for $500,000 in multi-year subscription revenue.
- Friday: No significant headlines.

Bowser Notes

MamaMancini's (MMMB) was the top gainer this week following news that the company appointed Meghan Henson to its Board of Directors. However, the stock is likely benefiting more from its quarterly earnings report two weeks ago. MMMB reported 137% yoy quarterly revenue growth and a record $3 million in operating cash flow. Shares are up 42% since the earnings report and gained 33% last week.

Assertio Holdings (ASRT) also quietly and continued its bullish trend. The stock recorded its highest daily closing price in 22 months and traded on high relative volume. While there was no news to support the move, the company increased full-year net product sales outlook in its earnings report three weeks ago.

Last 3 picks:

OCT:DLNG
↓ 15%

NOV:ASRT
↑ 51%

DEC:TIG
↑ 113%
